FRYER TIPS

- Don't overfill the fryer.
- Allow oil to cool before cleaning.
- Always use fresh, good quality oil so as not to taint the food.
- Do not over-crowd the fryer, especially with frozen foods – this will quickly drop the temperature of the oil.
- Salt can cause the oil to splatter, so season immediately after cooking.
- If cooking from raw, cut the pieces as uniformly as possible for an even cook.
- If using a batter, dip half of the product into the fryer and allow to bubble before adding it all in; this will prevent the food from sticking to the bottom of the fryer.

MAKE IT HOMEMADE

TARTARE SAUCE

This simple but great sauce has its origins in France in the mid-19th century, and is traditionally served with fried fish. For a little difference, add one tablespoon of chopped fresh tarragon or dill. For a healthier version, replace the mayonnaise with some low-fat yoghurt.

Makes 4 portions

In a bowl, combine 200ml mayonnaise, 40gm chopped capers, 40gm chopped gherkins, 1 finely chopped small onion and 1 tbsp chopped fresh parsley. Give it a good stir, then add the juice of ½ a lemon. Stir to combine, then season with sea salt and freshly ground black pepper.

BURGERS

EVERY MENU NEEDS A BURGER. GIVE THE BUNS A QUICK TOAST BEFORE SERVING, AND ALWAYS BE SURE TO MELT THE CHEESE FOR MAXIMUM CRAVEABILITY.

TOP TIPS FOR AMAZING STEWS

- Always brown the meat to add depth of flavour.
- Cook it low and slow. This is the best way to ensure succulent, tender meat.
- Add comforting sides. Include mashed or baked potatoes, or serve in a bread bowl.
- Yesterday's stew is tomorrow's pie. Transfer day-old stew into individual pie dishes, top with pastry lids or mashed potato and bake for a hearty, wholesome special menu item that minimises kitchen waste.

CHICKEN WINGS

CHICKEN WINGS SHOW NO SIGNS OF DECREASING IN POPULARITY. ALLOW YOUR CUSTOMERS THEIR CHOICE OF WING SAUCE FOR AN EASY CUSTOMISATION – BUT A SIDE OF BLUE CHEESE DIP IS A MUST!

MAKE IT HOMEMADE

BLUE CHEESE DIP

Blue cheese dip has become the standard accompaniment to chicken wings, acting as a cooling contrast to the spicy wing sauce. Other must-haves at the table include a separate bowl for bones, and either napkins or wet wipes.

Makes 10 portions

In a bowl, combine 150g crumbled blue cheese, 120g sour cream, 3 tbsp mayonnaise, 1 tbsp buttermilk, 1 tbsp lemon juice and some salt and pepper to taste. Stir to combine well, then place in the fridge for at least 2-3 hours before serving to allow the flavours to combine properly. Add 1-2 celery stalks to complete the dish.

CARBONARA

A traditional carbonara uses raw egg yolks and grated Pecorino. This cream-based sauce would not be used in Italy, but has been adapted into an Irish interpretation. Another popular addition in Ireland is the cooked chicken. For a lighter version, swap the cream for a good tomato passata.

Makes 4 portions

Heat 50ml olive oil in a heavy bottomed or non-stick pan. Fry off 1 chopped small onion and 1 chopped garlic clove until translucent. Add 200gm smoked bacon lardons and cook for a few minutes. Add 100gm sliced button mushrooms and cook for a few minutes, then add 100ml white wine and allow to reduce by half. Add 300ml cream and simmer gently for five minutes. Add 75gm grated Parmesan and stir well. Add 500gm cooked, al dente spaghetti and toss to coat. Check seasoning and add a good few twists of black pepper. When ready, remove from the heat. Immediately add 1 tbsp chopped parsley and 1 egg yolk and give it a good stir.

BÉCHAMEL

Béchamel is a base sauce and one of the mother sauces of French cuisine, ideal for use in lasagne. To make what is called a velouté, substitute the milk for a good stock; e.g. use fish stock to make a fish velouté.

Makes 1 litre

Stud 1 small onion with 1 bay leaf and 4 cloves (this is traditionally called an onion clouté). Add this to 1Ltr milk in a saucepan and slowly bring to the boil. In a separate saucepan, gently melt 100gm butter, then slowly add 100gm plain flour, stirring all the time to form a paste known as a roux. Remove and discard the onion and slowly add the hot milk to the roux, whisking all the time to form a smooth, thick sauce. Simmer for 5-10 minutes, stirring all the time to avoid burning. Strain to remove any lumps.
